As a Programme Manager, I've had the opportunity to work with a number of supplier of services over my career. I have found that working with Elise Crooks (the principal consultant of BlueCode) has been a rewarding experience. I rely on and trust Elise's expertise. The quality of work delivered is of a high quality and the service delivery is very professional.

I am more at ease managing my project when I know my BlueCode BA is leading on key, high risk, and high impact deliverables.

BlueCode Services Limited was engaged to produce a website that aligned with the firm's core values and vision.

They were able to execute this in a timely manner, with the firm being able to launch its website within a month's time of commencement of trading. The service quality was supreme, with transparency, guidance and timely updates being provided throughout the process.

We continue to receive great feedback regarding how well the website represents our brand. We are very proud of this, especially since the firm's website is the first mode of contact or visual representation of quality.
